Chapter One:

"Hey has anyone seen Bumblebee recently?" Bulkhead said this got everyone attention in the lounge's.

"No, I haven't. Bulkhead aren't you two usually together?" Optimus said.

"Yeah Bossbot but these last few cycles he's been acting kinda...well not himself so I wanted to see if any of you have seen him?"

"Now that you mention it, the kid has been too quiet. That's never a good thing," Ratchet said.

"I agree with Ratchet; Jazz, and Jetfire, Jetstorm have you three seen Bumblebee or notice anything about him?" Prowl asked.

"No Prowl sir!" the Jettwins said together.

"Actually I did run into him a little while ago he looked like he was in a hurry, and when I asked him where's the fire he just ignored me ran off. He looked angry," Jazz stated.

"The bumper must have gotten reprimanded or something, why are you worrying so much? Bots like him have nothing to hide," Sentinal said not bothering to look up from his datapad.

"Even so Sentinel this not Bumblebee's usual behavior. I check to see if he was reprimanded and there is nothing to confirm it. So the question is what's going on with Bumblebee?"

As they sat there thinking the alarms went off throughout the entire building.
"Intruder alert! Intruder alert! Intruder has been detected in the data sector! Intruder alert! Intruder alert!

"We are near the data sector. Autobots let's-" Optimus stated but Sentinal quickly interupted
"I am the Second-in-Command Optimus! I give the orders around here! Autobots head to the data sector immediately!"

The earth team and Sentinel Prime team head to the data sector. When they arrived, they see bots injured and knocked out all along the corridor.

"What the slag?!" Ratchet yelled

"Ratchet, radio the Medbay and alert them that there are injured guards in the data sector!" ordered Optimus

"Already ahead of you Prime!"

"We need to hurry, Optimus. If this intruder did this, who knows what they are doing in the Records Room! Tell your medic to hurry, we are going to need him more than these soldiers," Sentinal yelled.
SP

Optimus signed " Sentinel is right. Ratchet, everyone, let's go."
SP   SP

As they continued on ahead to the Elite Guard Record Room, they saw more destruction. There were more Elite guard soldiers lying about the halls injured and unconscious. Holes in the floor and ground, indicating there was heavy fighting happening before bots went down.
There were that had occurred the

"Ok here is the Record Room looks like the intruder hasn't come here yet," Optimus said.
SP

" Why you say that Prime, sir?" the Jettwins asked.

"Because, you boltheads, the doors to the Record Room are still standing. Only Elite Guard soldiers can enter. The intruder would have to destroy the doors to get in," Sentinal explained.
only SP

How did BB get in? He's not Elite Guard

"And a shot from Omega Supreme cannon could destroy them," Ratchet confirmed
's

Who said this?

"Everyone, let's head inside to see if there are any injured bots that retreated into the Record Room and prepare ourselves if the intruder comes this way,"
STET

You called them different names earlier

The Prime teams enter the Record Room, only to come across something they were not expecting at all. Inside the room ,all the record keepers were in the same conditions as the bots outside the halls of the data sector. There was also a bot in the room, doing something at the main computer.

"What the slag! Bumblebee what are you doing here?!" Ratchet yelled.

Recommendations:

1) change up some of your dialogue tags. For example, instead of just "Optimus said", add some more description; "Optimus sighed, robbing his faceplates wearily"

2) Add more description in general; the setting, the characters, their emotions.
